From Tuesday November 2, to Saturday November 6, 1756.

Admiralty Office, November 6, 1756.

BY Letters from Vice Admiral Watson, dated the 15th of February and 10th of March last, in Geriah Harbour, we have an Account, that he arrived off that Place the 11th of February, with the Ships under-mentioned, where he was informed Tulagee Angria was treating with the Morattoes to surrender the Place to them.

In Consequence of this Intelligence, the Vice Admiral sent him a Summons the next Morning to surrender the Town and Fort to him, but receiving no Answer in the Time he proposed, and finding the Morattoes (from whom he has received no Assistance) were trifling with him, he weighed in the Afternoon, and stood into the Harbour in two Divisions, in the Order as under-mentioned: The Enemy fired at the Ships as they passed their Batteries; but as soon as they were got by them, and were properly placed, they began such a Fire as soon silenced their Batteries, and likewise the Fire from their Grabs. Soon after Four o'Clock a Shell was thrown into the Restoration, an armed Ship which Angria sometime ago took from the East India Company, which set her on Fire, and very soon after his whole Fleet shared the same Fate, and are all entirely destroyed. In the Night the Vice Admiral landed all his Troops, suspecting the Enemy would endeavour to let in the Morattoes, which Supposition was verified by a Deserter, who informed Mr. Watson that Angria (who himself was not in the Fort) had sent Orders to his Brother-in-Law, who commanded the Garrison, on no Account to suffer the English to come in.

On the 13th in the Afternoon, after several Messages had passed to no Purpose, the Vice Admiral renew'd the Attack, and in about twenty Minutes they flung out a Flag of Truce, but the Admiral insisting that his Troops should be let in, and their Colours hawled down, and they not complying with his Demand, he repeated his Attack with great Vigour, and the Enemy very soon called out for Mercy, which our Troops were near enough to hear very distinctly. An Officer with sixty Men marched into the Fort that Night, and the next Morning all our Forces.

The Vice Admiral reports, that all his Officers and Men behaved with great Spirit; that our Loss was very inconsiderable, as well with respect to Men as to the Damage done to the Ships, insomuch that he should have been able to have proceeded to Sea again in Twenty-four Hours, had there been a Necessity for so doing.

They found upwards of two hundred Guns in the Place, six Brass Mortars, and a very large Quantity of Ammunition of all Kinds; and in Money and Effects about 120,000 l. or 130,000 l.

The Grabs, which were burnt, consisted of eight Ketches and one Ship, besides two others which were building, one of which was to carry 40 Guns; and a considerable Number of small Vessels called Gallivats.

There were in the Fort about 2000 People, 300 of whom bore Arms. Among the Prisoners are, Angria's Wife and Children, his Mother, his Brother-in-Law, and the Commander in Chief of his Grabs.

The Vice-Admiral has left about 300 of the East India Company's European Troops in the Garrison, and as many Seapoys, and three or four of the Company's armed Vessels in the Harbour, for the Defence of the Place, as it is judged to be extreamly well situated for the Interest of the Company, and very tenable.

The Continuation of the Journal of the Army in the Camp of Budin.

October 2. After having passed the Night on the Field of Battle, the Army entered quietly into the Camp of Budin, and, by the particular Order of Marshal Brown, we took all the possible Care of our wounded, as well as those of the Enemy; and his Excellency shewed great Civility and Politeness to the eight Prussian Officers, who were taken in the Battle of Lowoschutz.

Oct. 3. The Prince of Durlack, the Duke of Arenberg, the Counts Bendict Daun, Althan, and Joseph Esterhasi, all Generals who are to serve in this Army, arrived here.

Oct. 4. The Regiment of Spleni, Hussars, who came from Hungary, arrived here in very good Order. This Day, being the Feast of our August Emperor, his Excellency ordered Te Deum to be sung in the Camp, and treated all the General Officers at Dinner; in the Evening the Army were ranged in Order of Battle, and the Rejoicings were concluded by a triple Fire of the Musketry of the Army.

Oct. 5. All the sick and wounded were sent to Prague to be better taken Care of; and as his Excellency Marshal Brown had sent back, on their Parole, the Prussian Officers, the Enemy also sent us the Prince of Lobkowitz, and the the Count de Verneda, Major of Cordua, who were taken in the Battle of Lowoſchutz.

Oct. 6, 7. Our Huſſars brought in ſeveral Priſoners, took in the Circle of Satz, where they had been extorting Forage and Proviſions. The Deſertion of the Enemy ſtill continues, a Number coming in every Day to our Camp. Both the Armies, ſince the Battle, continue in the ſame Poſition.

Bruſſels, Oct. 29. The ſeveral Corps in the Auſtrian Netherlands, that are to take the Field, have received their Orders and Route for marching to Luxembourg, ſome by the Way of Namur, and others by that of Huy; and To-morrow all the Troops that are not already at Luxembourg, will be in Motion for that Place. Of thoſe that are to remain in this Country, 4 Batallions are to be in Garriſon at Oſtend, under the Command of Major General Piſa. Several Detachments are likewiſe to be ſent to Nieuport, in order to form a Garriſon there of 7 or 800 Men. Late on Tueſday Evening, a Meſſenger arrived here from Vienna, with the News of the Surrender of the Saxon Army to the King of Pruſſia. M. de Bonnac, who was the French King's Ambaſſador at the Hague, after ſtopping here a few Days, proceeded this Morning on his Journey to Paris.
